Education Forum Goes Digital

To: Presidents and All Members

From: Gary Fenn, Interim Associate General Secretary – Professional Services

For Information

The digital edition of Education Forum has officially launched, featuring a timely and thought-provoking collection of articles exploring censorship, access to knowledge, and the power of stories in public education. This new edition brings together perspectives from OSSTF/FEESO leadership, members, researchers, and community voices examining how book challenges, censorship, and attacks on inclusive education are shaping classrooms and communities across Ontario and beyond.

Highlights include discussions on protecting the right to read, supporting inclusive libraries and learning spaces, the experiences of educators navigating increasing pressures, and reflections on whose stories are being challenged or erased. This edition also introduces a new digital rollout, with articles being released throughout the year.

Follow OSSTF/FEESO on social media to stay up to date on the latest Education Forum articles and features.
